Hard Workers are waiting for Hungry Customers

REXBURG, IDAHO, July 5th, 2024--- BYU-I's very own Teton Grill is ready and waiting for hungry customers to come by and partake in delicious burgers and tasty seasoned fries. The main attraction to the Teton Grill is the ability to write up and check and mark all of the bit and pieces that you want added to your burger or leave everything off depending on it you want less or more.

A true build your own burger stop, and one of the best parts about the Teton Grill on campus is that its quick and the employees there try to make it their goal to get you their food as fast as possible.

“One of the best parts about working here is the teamwork that goes on here. We each take a station to work on the fries or cook the burger patties, and we all try to alternate and help each other out to switch things up.” -Liam, an employee at the Teton Grill says.

The synergy that the employees work on allows for the customer to easily order their food and get going. In a way, Teton Grill imitates an older burger joint, making fast and easy good food for individuals on the go.

Alongside working hard to serve the many students of Brigham Young University-Idaho, Teton Grill also offers a catering service for those who are in need of great food for a special event, birthday, or a graduation celebration. “Catering would have to be the one actual stressful part about this job. You just have to prepare so much in advance for a catering order, and sometimes the catering orders can come in out of nowhere, and you’ll not only have to fill out the catering order, but also serve the people coming to eat here every day.” Liam from Teton Grill says.

Liam also remarked that even despite that, the work is good and honest, and that he’s thankful to be working at Teton Grill. Working food service is not as glamourous or as bad as some people make it out to be. Sometimes, you just need to find a good team or dedicated manager to make sure that you are able to keep up with the workload and endure the fast-paced work environment that food services provide.

The bottom line for all this is that there are hard workers who try their best to provide exceptional and stellar service and are willing to do all they can to make sure that your meal or your catered event will be a great one.
